Letter from The President - 2017

Adamera continues to be focused on the discovery of high-grade gold deposits in Washington State. 2017 was a milestone year for the development of high quality exploration targets. Through drilling we have clearly demonstrated the area's potential. This program is continuing today.

When Adamera initiated work in the district we were challenged by the diversity of deposit types and the scarcity of prior exploration data to follow up. We needed a broad scale exploration technique that would generate drill targets, regardless of the geological vagaries we were seeing. The use of airborne geophysics has proven to be the tool we needed for success, generating numerous targets for ground follow up and drilling.

Unfortunately, the fire season denied access for summer drilling and delayed progress on the Cooke Mountain gold project, limiting the number of targets drilled. During this time Adamera deployed its manpower to large scale geochemical and ground geophysical surveys. This new data was combined with mapping and sampling to greatly expand our understanding of the styles and controls to potential mineralization. In fact, that work not only reset our drilling priorities but defined several new targets for testing.

We start 2018 with a better defined set of targets and the access approvals necessary and are currently drilling early.

2017 Exploration Program

Gold mineralization at Cooke Mountain has historically been associated with massive magnetite and sulfides. Previous explorers focused almost exclusively on magnetic surveys to define drill targets. That work proved successful in the discovery of several deposits, although target identification was hindered by magnetically noisy background and the presence of magnetite in unmineralized rocks.

To improve targeting, Adamera sought to combine magnetic surveying with geophysical methods capable of detecting sulfides that would almost certainly be associated with gold mineralization. Electromagnetics (EM) was trialed and subsequently adopted for the project. To cover a large area, a helicopter (VTEM) survey combined with aeromagnetism was completed. This approach was spectacularly successful in detecting the known deposits in the area and defining new targets, some in close proximity to known deposits and others some distance away.

Detailed soil sampling, ground magnetic and EM surveying and geological mapping were completed to better define and prioritize new targets. Nearly 11,000 soil samples were collected and 700 kilometres of ground magnetic surveying was completed.

A total of 12 diamond drill holes on 8 targets were completed for 2300 metres. Targets tested include Overlook, Oversight, Oversight South, HLK-1, HLK-2 and Big Banana. Two shallow holes also tested targets west of Big Banana on the Goodfoot property.

Due to the large number of VTEM targets listed for ground follow up and drilling we have moved the drill rig from one site to another to get a preliminary rating of priorities. We intend to continue this approach during the Spring and then move to in-fill drilling on our best discoveries.

Highlights for 2017 exploration include the following:

- 1) Discovery of high-grade gold (9.6 g/t gold over 10.9 metres and 9.9 g/t gold over 2.1 metres) northwest of the Overlook Deposit in a mineralized zone that lies below the main deposit mineralization.
- 2) Shallow high-grade gold (6.5 g/t gold over 2.8 metres) intersected at Oversight, southeast of the Overlook deposit. Importantly, a large area with similar potential was identified, the style of which was previously unrecognized.
- 3) The discovery of the Outlook Ridge prospect, a high-grade near surface target.
- 4) The high priority SE-01 target was identified – 2 holes have recently been drilled. Gold assays are pending.
- 5) Development of the Goodfoot property and definition of a number of Lamefoot gold mine style targets.
- 6) Several new targets in and around the former Key West and Key East gold mines defined.
- 7) Other early stage targets that will be developed through 2018.

Please refer to detailed project overviews further below.

Company Strategy

Adamera is exploring for high-grade gold deposits in Northeast Washington State, an area with a production record of +6 million ounces of gold. Many former producers are documented dating back to the early 1900's.

High-grade deposits such as the Buckhorn Mine averaged approximately 12 g/t gold. Despite hauling ore 70 km from the Buckhorn Mine to the Kettle River treatment plant, Buckhorn was known as a low-cost producer with reported production costs ranging from about $350/ oz. at the start of the mine in 2008 to around $700/oz. in its final years. The Buckhorn Mine closed in 2017 leaving the Kettle River Mill idle.

Working in an area with a well-developed network of roads, an under utilized treatment plant and an experienced work force is highly advantageous for any company. It is anticipated that the existing treatment plant would lower mine development costs and significantly reduce permitting timelines.

Land and Permits

In 2017, Adamera significantly expanded its property holdings in the Cooke Mountain project area through staking and leasing initiatives.

Permitting for drilling in the area for 2017 was a challenge as we had to work with three separate agencies. Approval to drill on US Forest Service land was granted in late January 2018. Drilling of these targets is currently underway.

Due to the development of numerous new targets, additional permitting will be required on those targets.

Financing

In 2017, Adamera funded its entire exploration program in Washington State through the exercise of 30 million warrants. In December 2017 the Company announced a $500,000 financing and due to a very positive response, increased the financing to over $700,000. This financing is funding a Phase Two drill program in Q1 2018.

Marketing

As a Canadian company exploring for high-grade gold in Washington State, Adamera continues to build investor awareness in Canada and the USA. News releases, investor conferences, interviews, letter writers and media articles were the major marketing tools for Adamera. During the year we disseminated 28 news releases dealing with our activities. Newsletter writers including Eric Coffin, Greg McCoach, John Kaiser and Brien Lundin have been very receptive to the upside of Washington gold exploration and have brought that interest to a broad audience of investors.

Canadian based marketing conferences attended by the company in 2017 include the Metal Investors Forum, Cambridge House Conference and the Prospectors and Developers Association of Canada conference. In the US, Adamera attended the New Orleans Investment Conference and the American Exploration and Mining Association (AEMA) in Reno, Nevada where Adamera displayed recent drill core.

As Adamera's projects are US based, it made sense to make shares more accessible to US investors by obtaining a US listing. In 2017, Adamera obtained an OTC Listing under the previously established trade symbol DDNff.

Measuring effective marketing is generally difficult; however, as a result of our efforts, our trading volume has increased 120% from 2016. The resulting trading volume for Adamera prior to December 23, 2017 was approximately 113 million shares out of 117 million tradable shares. Average daily volume is approximately 291,000 shares per day. Since the US listing was initiated, Adamera has traded approximately 24,000,000 shares on the OTC.

In 2017, overall website visits and unique individual website visits were up 124% and 74% respectively from 2016.

Community

In 2017, the Buckhorn Gold Mine closed and the Kettle River gold mill was put on care and maintenance, resulting in a significant loss of employment for the surrounding communities. Adamera is committed to hiring locally and is striving to ultimately see gold treatment resume.

Over the course of the year, Adamera employed over 30 American workers on the Cooke Mountain project, 20 of whom were local. In addition, 28 local commercial vendors provided services to the operation. This commitment to employ local people is highly dependent on training and developing in-house expertise. In-house capabilities include various geophysical surveys such as ground geophysics, geochemistry and XRF and pH analyses. Adamera is determined to make a significant and positive impact in the community.

Project Overviews

Oversight / Overlook

At Oversight / Overlook, the VTEM survey completed by Adamera identifies a 900 metre long NW-SE trending conductor centered on the former Overlook mine which spanned 250 to 300 metres. The 250 metre extensions of the conductor beyond the Overlook deposit to the NW and SW, and the possibility of previously unknown mineralized horizons below the known Overlook workings represent significant exploration potential. Updated underground mine plans will assist in targeting to determine the best areas to explore for new mineralization.

Knowledge gained through drilling and our interpretation of soil geochemical and geophysical data suggests two styles of gold mineralization on the property: 1) a deep gold rich massive magnetite and sulfide zone detectable with magnetic and electromagnetic (EM) methods such as VTEM surveying and 2) a new shallow gold-silica zone not detectable with magnetics or EM.

Zones of gold rich massive magnetite and sulfide mineralization occur at the limestone-clastic rock contact, immediately below a thick Scatter Creek intrusive sill at a depth of around 195 metres. A similar zone occurs at 210 metres, below approximately 5 metres of unaltered limestone. In drill hole OS17-06, remnants of the upper massive magnetite and sulfide zone assayed 9.9 g/t over 2 metres. The lower unit assayed 9.6 g/t gold over 10.8 metres. Drill holes OS-06 and OS-07 both intersected upper and lower mineralized zones northwest of the Overlook Mine.

A new zone of mineralization below the known Overlook mine workings is a real possibility and for obvious reasons is a high interest target for Adamera. Integration of the new underground plans and existing drill data should help determine if the lower zone in OS17-06 was undetected and unmined by Echo Bay, as presently seems to be the case.

Shallow high-grade gold associated with silica alteration and silica veining in high level clastic rocks stratigraphically above the massive magnetite / sulfide zone was intersected southeast of the Overlook mine in drill holes OS17-01 and OS17-03 at depths ranging from 20 to 60 metres. This shallow mineralization is not conductive or magnetic but the presence of gold in soils above these intersections suggests the zones are detectable with soil sampling. Testing this new style of gold mineralization will require drilling with shallow, relatively inexpensive holes.

Large gold anomalies in soil on the Oversight /Overlook property were thought to be related to gold glacially dispersed from the Overlook Mine. Specifically, areas with anomalous gold in soil not associated with coincident magnetic or EM anomalies. However, after the 2017 work program, Adamera has determined that the gold in soil has little relation to the deeper gold bearing magnetite zone at Overlook and appears to be entirely a response to shallow gold mineralization similar to gold intersections in drill holes OS17-01 and OS17-03. Large gold anomalies in soil on the property will be targeted for high-grade shallow gold mineralization.

Outlook Ridge

Late in 2017, a new high-grade gold occurrence called Outlook Ridge was identified between the Overlook and Key West gold mines.

Rock samples collected from outcrop assayed 64 g/t, 37 g/t, 30 g/t, 7.8 g/t and 2.1 g/t gold. The high-grade gold rocks are silicified and brecciated clastic sediments with quartz-sulfide veining. Clastic sediments are exposed in prospect pits immediately below a felsic sill, a flat lying intrusive body that extends across the property. Any underlying mineralization would obviously be concealed at surface.

Gold mineralization in the area is situated on northeast trending linear features that pass through both the Overlook and Key West deposits. The linear features are interpreted to be important mineralizing structures with +1000 metres of strike length.

As the sills are extensive in the area, denser soil sampling and magnetic surveying was completed to detect leakage of gold through faults cutting the intrusive sills and or erosional “windows” within the sills. The Company is planning an induced polarization (IP) survey to identify gold in association with silica flooding in the clastic rocks.

HLK Property – SE-01

Drilling at SE-01 is currently underway with results from two holes expected in mid March. Additional drilling on SE-01 will depend on assay results. SE-01 was initially identified by VTEM as a strong conductor with a coincident magnetic response. Development of this target advanced significantly through 2017. The target has a strike length of +700 metres.

The area surrounding SE-01 requires additional ground geophysics to resolve nearby geochemical anomalies. Those surveys will likely include ground EM and possibly IP.

Goodfoot Property

Goodfoot was acquired in late 2016 based on its proximity to the Lamefoot gold mine deposit located 2 kilometres to the north. Initial work on Goodfoot focussed on the Big Banana EM conductor that spanned the entire length of the property. A drill hole into the conductor encountered a graphitic sulfide-rich shear zone without encouraging assays.

Adamera shifted focus to the west side of the property where a modest number of soil samples had yielded anomalous gold values. Closer soil sampling and geophysical surveying has identified new targets with gold in soil related to several magnetic, EM, structural and lithological features. These targets will be followed up in 2018.

Overall the Goodfoot property delineates 5.2 kilometres of stratigraphy considered prospective for a Lamefoot style deposit.

Conclusion

2017 was a challenging yet successful year for the Company. The highlights of our program included the discovery of high-grade gold at the Oversight / Overlook project and the development of new exploration targets for later drilling. Adamera's first drill hole in 2018 intersected 120 metres of disseminated to near massive sulfides at SE-01, a new target area near the former Cooke Mountain gold mines. A second hole has now been completed on the target. Gold assays are pending.

Over the past couple of years, it has become apparent that Adamera has an incredibly sturdy shareholder composition. Investing in discovery-based exploration requires confidence, patience and perseverance. To the shareholders, I thank you for your support and highly constructive correspondence.

Moving into 2018 we have every reason to be optimistic that a significant discovery is possible. We have the combination of excellent geology and an innovative, systematic approach to exploration. Thank you to the Adamera team.

We have not arranged for Intermediaries to forward the meeting materials to Non-Registered Shareholders who have objected to their ownership information being disclosed by the Intermediary holding the Common Shares on their behalf (objecting beneficial owners). As a result, objecting beneficial owners will not receive the Information Circular and associated meeting materials unless their Intermediary assumes the costs of delivery. The Company is relying on the Notice-and-Access provisions of NI 54-101 to send proxy-related materials to Registered Shareholders or Non-Registered Shareholders in connection with the Meeting.

Appointment and Revocation of Proxies

The persons named in the accompanying form of Proxy (the “Proxy”) are Directors or Officers of the Company. If you are a Registered Shareholder, you have the right to attend the meeting or vote by proxy and to appoint a person or company other than the person designated in the Proxy, who need not be a Shareholder, to attend and act for you and on your behalf at the Meeting. You may do so either by inserting the name of that other person in the blank space provided in the Proxy or by completing and delivering another suitable form of Proxy. Registered Shareholders electing to submit a Proxy may do so by:

- i) Completing, dating and signing the enclosed Proxy and returning it to the Company’s transfer agent, Computershare Investor Services Inc. (“Computershare”), by fax in North America at 1-

Registered Shareholders who choose this option must follow the instructions of the voice response system and refer to the enclosed Proxy for the toll-free number, the Registered Shareholder's account number and the Proxy Control Number; or
- iii) Using the internet through the website of Computershare at www.investorvote.com. Registered Shareholders who choose this option must follow the instructions that appear on the screen and refer to the enclosed Proxy for the Registered Shareholder's account number and the Proxy Control Number.

In all cases you should ensure the Proxy is received at least 48 hours before the Meeting or the adjournment thereof at which the Proxy is to be used.

Every Proxy may be revoked by an instrument in writing:

- i) executed by the Registered Shareholder or by his/her attorney authorized in writing or, where the Registered Shareholder is a company, by a duly authorized officer or attorney of the company; and
- ii) delivered either to the registered office of the Company at any time up to and including the last business day preceding the day of the Meeting or any adjournment thereof, at which the Proxy is to be used, or to the chairman of the Meeting on the day of the Meeting or any adjournment thereof; or in any other manner provided by law.

Only Registered Shareholders have the right to revoke a Proxy. Non-Registered Shareholders who wish to change their vote must, at least seven days before the Meeting, arrange for their respective Intermediaries to revoke the Proxy on their behalf. If you are a Non-Registered Shareholder, see "Non-Registered Shareholders" below for further information on how to vote your Common Shares.

Exercise of Discretion by Proxyholder

If you vote by proxy, the persons named in the Proxy will vote or withhold from voting the Common Shares represented thereby in accordance with your instructions on any ballot that may be called for. If you specify a choice with respect to any matter to be acted upon, your Common Shares will be voted accordingly. The Proxy confers discretionary authority on the persons named therein with respect to:

- i) each matter or group of matters identified therein for which a choice is not specified;
- ii) any amendment to or variation of any matter identified therein;
- iii) any other matter that properly comes before the Meeting; and
- iv) exercise of discretion of proxyholder.

Non-Registered Shareholders

The following information is of significant importance to Shareholders who do not hold Common Shares in their own name. Non-Registered Shareholders should note that the only Proxies that can be recognized and acted upon at the Meeting are those deposited by Registered Shareholders.

If Common Shares are listed in an account statement provided to a Shareholder by an Intermediary, then in almost all cases those Common shares will not be registered in the Shareholder's name on the records of the Company. Such Common Shares will more likely be registered under the name of the Non-Registered Shareholder's Intermediary or an agent of that Intermediary. In Canada, the majority of such Common Shares are registered under the name of CDS & Co. (the registration name for The Canadian Depository for Securities Limited, which acts as nominee for many Canadian brokerage firms), and in the United States, under the name of Cede & Co., as nominee for The Depository Trust Company (which acts as depository for many U.S. brokerage firms and custodian banks).

If you have consented to disclosure of your ownership information, you will receive a request for voting instructions from the Company. If you have declined to disclose your ownership information, you may receive a request for voting instructions from your Intermediary if they have assumed the cost of delivering the meeting materials. Every Intermediary has its own mailing procedures and provides its own return instructions to clients. However, most Intermediaries now delegate responsibility for obtaining voting instructions from clients to Broadridge Financial Solutions, Inc. ("Broadridge") in Canada and the United States.

If you are a Non-Registered Shareholder, you should carefully follow the instructions on the voting instruction form received from Broadridge in order to ensure that your Common Shares are voted at the Meeting. The voting instruction form supplied to you will be similar to the Proxy provided to the Registered Shareholders by the Company. However, its purpose is limited to instructing the Intermediary on how to vote on your behalf.

The voting instruction form sent by Broadridge will name the same persons as the Company's Proxy to represent you at the Meeting. Although as a Non-Registered Shareholder you may not be recognized directly at the Meeting for the purposes of voting Common Shares registered in the name of your intermediary, you, or a person designated by you (who need not be a Shareholder), may attend the Meeting as Proxyholder for your Intermediary and vote your Common Shares in that capacity. To exercise this right to attend the Meeting or appoint a Proxyholder of your own choosing, you should insert your own name or the name of the desired representative in the blank space provided in the voting instruction form. Alternatively, you may provide other written instructions requesting that you or your desired representative attend the Meeting as Proxyholder for your Intermediary. The completed voting instruction form or other written instructions must then be returned in accordance with the instructions on the form.

If you receive a voting instruction form from Broadridge, you cannot use it to vote Common Shares directly at the Meeting – the voting instruction form must be completed as described above and returned in accordance with its instructions well in advance of the Meeting in order to have the Common Shares voted.

VOTING SHARES AND PRINCIPAL HOLDERS THEREOF

On January 17, 2018, 124,908,595 common shares without par value were issued and outstanding, each share carrying the right to one vote. CORPORATE GOVERNANCE DISCLOSURE

General

A summary of the responsibilities and activities and the membership of each of the Committees is set out below. National Instrument 58-201 – Corporate Governance Guidelines establishes corporate governance guidelines which apply to all public companies. The Company has reviewed its own corporate governance practices in light of these guidelines. In certain cases, the Company's practices comply with the guidelines, however, the board of directors (the "Board") considers that some of the guidelines are not suitable for the Company at its current stage of development and therefore these guidelines have not been adopted. National Instrument 58-101 – Disclosure of Corporate Governance Practices mandates disclosure of corporate governance practices, which disclosure is set out below.

A. Independence of Members of the Board

The Company's Board consists of four directors, of whom Yale Simpson, Geir Liland and Bernard Kahlert are independent based upon the tests for independence set forth in National Instrument 52-110 – Audit Committees ("NI 52-110"). Mark Kolebaba, President and CEO is not considered independent.

B. Management Supervision by the Board

The size of the Company is such that all the Company's operations are conducted by a small management team which is also represented on the Board. The Board considers that management is effectively supervised by the independent directors on an informal basis as the independent directors are actively and regularly involved in reviewing the operations of the Company and have regular and full access to management. The independent directors are able to meet at any time without any members of management including the non-independent directors, being present. Further supervision is performed through the audit committee which is composed of two independent directors who meet with the Company's auditors annually or as required throughout the fiscal year.

C. Participation of Directors In Other Reporting Issuers

The participation of the directors in other reporting issuers is described in the table provided under "Particulars of Matters to be Acted Upon – Elections of Directors" in this Information Circular.

D. Orientation and Continuing Education

While the Company does not have formal orientation and training programs, new Board members are provided with:

1. information respecting the functioning of the Board and committees;
2. access to recent, publicly filed documents of the Company; and
3. access to management.

Board members are encouraged to communicate with management, auditors and technical consultants; to keep themselves current with industry trends and developments and changes in legislation with management's assistance; and to attend related industry seminars and visit the Company's operations. Board members have full access to the Company's records.

E. Ethical Business Conduct

The Board views good corporate governance as an integral component to the success of the Company and to meet responsibilities to Shareholders. The Company has adopted a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics, a Whistleblower Policy, and an Insider Trading Policy, copies of which are available upon request.

F. Nomination of Directors

The Board has responsibility for identifying potential Board candidates. The Board assesses potential Board candidates to fill perceived needs on the Board for required skills, expertise, independence and other factors. Members of the Board and representatives of the mining exploration industry are consulted for possible candidates.

G. Compensation

Compensation paid to NEOs and directors is described in Items B and C of the section entitled "Statement of Executive Compensation".

H. Board Committees

In addition to the Audit Committee, and the Compensation Committee the Board has a Corporate Governance Committee consisting of Mark Kolebaba, Yale Simpson, Geir Liland and Bernard Kahlert. The Corporate Governance Committee reviews corporate policies and has incorporated a code of ethics and conduct for employees to ensure that high business standards are maintained and that the Company is compliant with regulatory requirements.

I. Assessments

The Board does not consider that formal assessments would be useful at this stage of the Company's development.

AUDIT COMMITTEE DISCLOSURE

NI 52-110 requires the Company, as a venture issuer, to disclose annually in its Information Circular certain information concerning the constitution of its audit committee and its relationship with its independent auditor, as set forth below.

The Company's audit committee is governed by an audit committee charter, the text of which is attached as Schedule "A" to this Information Circular.

The Company's audit committee is comprised of three directors: Mark Kolebaba, Geir Liland and Bernard Kahlert. As defined in NI 52-110, Geir Liland and Bernard Kahlert are considered "independent" directors and all of the members are considered "financially literate". The audit committee meets the requirements applicable to a "venture issuer" (as defined in National Instrument 51-102 – Continuous Disclosure Obligations).

The educational background or experience of the respective audit committee members that has enabled each to perform his responsibilities as an audit committee member and has provided the member with an understanding of the accounting principles used by the Company to prepare its financial statements, the ability to assess the general application of such accounting principles in connection with the accounting for estimates, accruals and reserves as well as experience preparing, auditing, analyzing or evaluating financial statements that present a breadth and level of complexity of accounting issues that are generally comparable to the breadth and complexity of issues that can reasonably be expected to be raised by the Company's financial statements, or experience actively supervising one or more individuals engaged in such activities and an understanding of internal controls and procedures for financial reporting is as follows:

Mark Kolebaba has served on the boards of public companies since 2002 and has been involved in mineral exploration for more than 20 years. Due to Mr. Kolebaba's extensive involvement with public companies he is familiar with public company financial statements and the accounting principles used in reading and preparing financial statements.

Geir Liland is a self-employed business man and director of several public companies. As an officer and director of various public companies, Mr. Liland has become familiar with public company financial statements and the accounting principles used in reading and preparing financial statements.

Bernard Kahlert is a geologist with over thirty years experience managing and directing junior exploration companies across North America. Mr. Kahlert is a director of a number of resource issuers.

Since the commencement of the Company's most recently completed financial year, the Company's Board has not failed to adopt a recommendation of the audit committee to nominate or compensate an external auditor.

Since the effective date of NI 52-110, the Company has not relied on the exemptions contained in sections 2.4 or 8 of NI 52-110 or an exemption from NI 52-110 in whole or in part, granted under Part 8 of NI 52-110. Section 2.4 provides an exemption from the requirement that the audit committee must pre-approve all non-audit services to be provided by the auditor, where the total amount of fees related to the non-audit services are not expected to exceed 5% of the total fees payable to the auditor in the fiscal year in which the non-audit services were provided. Section 8 permits a company to apply to a securities regulatory authority for an exemption from the requirements of NI 52-110, in whole or in part.

The audit committee has specific policies and procedures for the engagement of non-audit services, as described in its audit committee charter.

In the following table, "audit fees" are fees billed by the Company's external auditor for services provided in auditing the Company's annual financial statements for the subject year. "Audit-related fees" are fees not included in audit fees that are billed by the auditor for assurance and related services that are reasonably related to the performance of the audit or review of the Company's financial statements. "Tax fees" are fees billed by the auditor for professional services rendered for tax compliance, tax advice and tax planning. "All other fees" are fees billed by the auditor for products and services not included in the foregoing categories.

The fees paid by the Company to its auditor in each of the last two fiscal years, by category, are as follows:

Financial Year Ending	Audit Fees	Audit Related Fees	Tax Fees	All Other Fees
December 31, 2016	$20,000	$Nil	$6,000	$Nil
December 31, 2015	$17,500	$Nil	$4,250	$Nil

The Company is relying on the exemption provided by section 6.1 of NI 52-110 which provides that the Company, as a venture issuer, is not required to comply with Part 3 (Composition of the Audit Committee) and Part 5 (Reporting Obligations) of NI 52-110.

This Code does not supersede the specific policies and procedures that are covered in the Company's operating manuals or in separate specific policy statements. References in this Code to the "Company" means the Company or any of its subsidiaries. Reference to "employees" includes officers, contractors, independent accounting contractors, and consultants.

Those who violate the standards set forth in this Code will be subject to disciplinary action up to and including dismissal. If you are in a situation that you believe may violate or lead to a violation of this Code, follow the guidelines described in Section XVII below.

Your cooperation is necessary to the continued success of our business and the cultivation and maintenance of our reputation as a good corporate citizen.

II. COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS, RULES AND REGULATIONS

Compliance with the letter and spirit of all laws, rules and regulations applicable to our business is critical to our reputation and continued success. All employees must respect and obey the laws of the cities, provinces, states and countries in which we operate and avoid even the appearance of impropriety. Not all employees are expected to know the details of these laws, but it is important to know enough to determine when to seek advice from supervisors, managers or other appropriate personnel. The Company holds information and training sessions to promote compliance with laws, rules and regulations, including insider trading laws.

III. CONFLICTS OF INTEREST

A conflict of interest occurs when an individual's private interest interferes, or appears to interfere, in any way with the interests of the Company. A conflict situation can arise when an employee or director takes actions or has interests that may make it difficult to perform his or her work for the Company objectively and effectively. Conflicts of interest also arise when an employee or director, or a member of his or her family, receives improper personal benefits as a result of his or her position in the Company. Loans to, or guarantees of obligations of, such persons are likely to pose conflicts of interest, as are transactions of any kind between the Company and any other organization in which you or any member of your family have an interest.

It may be perceived as a conflict of interest for an employee to work simultaneously for a competitor, customer or supplier. Therefore, working for a competitor, as a consultant or director, is discouraged by the Company. The best policy is to avoid any direct or indirect business connection with our customers, suppliers or competitors, except on behalf of the Company. However, should you find yourself in a situation as such, you are expected to disclose the potential conflict of interest to both the Company, and the other party.

Activities that could give rise to conflicts of interest are prohibited unless specifically approved by the Board of Directors or the Audit Committee. It is not always easy to determine whether a conflict of interest exists, so any potential conflicts of interests should be reported immediately to senior management or the Company's general legal counsel.

Given that the Directors are engaged in a wide range of activities, each Director or officer is required to disclose to the Company any interest in a material contract or transaction or proposed material contract or transaction with the Company or the fact that such person is a director or officer of, or otherwise has a material interest in, any person who is a party to a material contract or transaction or proposed material contract or transaction with the Company. Such disclosure is required to be made at the first meeting at which a proposed contract or transaction is considered. In any case, a Director who has made disclosure to the foregoing effect is not entitled to vote on any resolution to approve the contract or transaction unless the contract or transaction is one relating primarily to his remuneration as a Trustee, one for indemnity under the Declaration of Trust or one for insurance

IV. CORPORATE OPPORTUNITIES

Employees and directors are prohibited from taking for themselves personally opportunities that arise through the use of corporate property, information or position and from using corporate property, information or position for personal gain. Employees and directors are also prohibited from competing with the Company directly or indirectly. Employees and directors owe a duty to the Company to advance the legitimate interests of the Company when the opportunity to do so arises.

V. CONFIDENTIALITY

Employees must maintain the confidentiality of information entrusted to them by the Company or that otherwise comes into their possession in the course of their employment, except when disclosure is authorized or legally mandated. Employees are required to execute a confidentiality agreement upon employment and from time to time during the course of employment. The obligation to preserve confidential information continues even after you leave the Company.

Confidential information includes all non-public information that may be of use to competitors, or harmful to the Company or its customers, if disclosed. It also includes information that suppliers and customers have entrusted to us.

VI. PROTECTION AND PROPER USE OF COMPANY ASSETS

All employees should endeavour to protect the Company's assets and ensure their efficient use. Theft, carelessness and waste have a direct impact on the Company's profitability. Any suspected incidents of fraud or theft should be immediately reported for investigation.

Company assets, such as equipment, funds or computers, may only be used for legitimate business purposes or other purposes approved by management. Company assets may never be used for illegal purposes.

The obligation to protect Company assets includes proprietary information. Proprietary information includes any information that is not generally known to the public or would be helpful to our competitors. Examples of proprietary information include intellectual property, such as trade secrets, patents, trademarks and copyrights, as well as business, marketing and service plans, proprietary geological concepts, engineering and manufacturing ideas, designs, contact lists, databases, records, salary information and any unpublished geological, geophysical, geochemical, financial data or reports. Unauthorized use or distribution of this information is a violation of Company policy. It may also be illegal and may result in civil and criminal penalties. The obligation to preserve proprietary information continues even after you leave the Company.

VII. INSIDER TRADING

Employees who have access to confidential information are not permitted to use or share that information for stock trading purposes or for any other purpose except the conduct of the business of the Company. All material undisclosed information about the Company should be considered confidential. To use material undisclosed information for personal financial benefit or to “tip” others who might make an investment decision on the basis of this information, is not only unethical, but also illegal. Further reference can be made to the ITSX Venture Exchange Policy 3.1, Section 5.

VIII. FAIR DEALING

We seek to outperform our competition fairly and honestly and to acquire, explore and develop mineral projects in a fair and honest manner. We seek competitive advantages through superior performance, never through unethical or illegal business practices. Stealing proprietary information, possessing trade secret information obtained without the owner’s consent or inducing the disclosures of proprietary information or trade secrets by past or present employees of other companies is prohibited. Each employee should endeavor to deal fairly with the Company’s business associates, option partners, joint venture partners, suppliers, competitors and employees. No employee should take unfair advantage of anyone through illegal conduct, manipulation, concealment, abuse of privileged information, misrepresentation of material facts or any other unfair-dealing practice.

IX. DISCRIMINATION AND HARASSMENT

We value the diversity of our employees and are committed to providing equal opportunity in all aspects of employment. Abusive, harassing or offensive conduct is unacceptable, whether verbal, physical or visual. Examples include derogatory comments based on racial or ethnic characteristics and unwelcome sexual advances. Employees are encouraged to speak out when a co-worker’s conduct makes them uncomfortable, and to report harassment when it occurs.

X. SAFETY AND HEALTH

We are all responsible for maintaining a safe and healthy workplace by following safety and health rules and practices, and more specifically detailed in the Company’s Safety Manual/Field Guide and Fuel Spill Contingency Plan. The Company is committed to keeping its workplaces and project areas free from hazards. Please report any accidents, injuries, unsafe equipment, practices or conditions immediately to a supervisor or other designated person. Threats or acts of violence or physical intimidation are prohibited.

In order to protect the safety of all employees, employees must report to work in condition to perform their duties and free from the influence of any substance that could prevent them from conducting work activities safely and effectively. The use of alcohol or illegal drugs in the workplace is prohibited. Likewise, employees are prohibited from being under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs during the course of their duties.

XI. RECORDKEEPING

Honest and accurate recording and reporting of information is critical to our financial reporting and our ability to make responsible business decisions. The Company’s accounting records are relied upon to produce reports for the Company’s management, shareholders, creditors, governmental agencies and others. Our financial statements and the books and records on which they are based must truthfully and accurately reflect all corporate transactions and conform to all legal and accounting requirements and our system of internal controls.

All employees have a responsibility to ensure that the Company’s records, including accounting records, do not contain any false or intentionally misleading entries. We do not permit intentional misclassification of transactions as to accounts, departments or accounting periods. All transactions must be supported by accurate documentation in reasonable detail and recorded in the proper account and in the proper accounting period.

All Company books, records, accounts and financial statements must be maintained in reasonable detail, must appropriately reflect Company transactions and must conform to both applicable legal requirements and the system of internal controls of the Company. Unrecorded or “off the books” funds or assets should not be maintained unless permitted by applicable law or regulation.

Business records and communications may become public through legal or regulatory investigations or the media. Exaggeration, derogatory remarks, legal conclusions or inappropriate characterizations of people and companies must be avoided. This applies to communications of all kinds, including email and informal notes or interoffice memos. Records should be retained and destroyed in accordance with the Company's records retention policy.

XII. USE OF E-MAIL AND INTERNET SERVICES

E-Mail systems and Internet services are provided to help us do work. Incidental and occasional personal use is permitted, but never for personal gain or any improper purpose. You may not access, send or download any information that could be insulting or offensive to another person, such as sexually explicit material or jokes, unwelcome propositions, ethnic or racial slurs, or any other message that could be viewed as harassment. Also remember that "flooding" our systems with junk mail and trivia hampers the ability of our systems to handle legitimate Company business and is prohibited.

Employees should not download copyrighted materials, should not copy material that is not licensed to the Company and should follow the terms of a license when using material that is licensed to the Company. No changes should be made to licensed materials without the prior consent of the Company. In addition, employees are prohibited from downloading games and screensavers as these are common sources of viruses.

Your messages (including voice mail) and computer information are considered the Company's property and you should not have any expectation of privacy. Unless prohibited by law, the Company reserves the right to access and disclose this information as necessary for business purposes. Use good judgment, and do not access, send messages or store any information that you would not want to be seen or heard by other individuals.

XIII. POLITICAL ACTIVITIES AND CONTRIBUTIONS

We respect and support the right of our employees to participate in political activities. However, these activities should not be conducted on Company time or involve the use of any Company resources such as telephones, computers or supplies. Employees will not be reimbursed for personal political contributions.

We may occasionally express our views on local and national issues that affect our operations. In such cases, Company funds and resources may be used, but only when permitted by law and by our strict guidelines. The Company may also make limited contributions to political parties or candidates in jurisdictions where it is legal and customary to do so. No employee may make or commit to political contributions on behalf of the Company without the approval of the Board of Directors.

XIV. GIFTS AND ENTERTAINMENT

Business gifts and entertainment are customary courtesies designed to build goodwill among business partners. These courtesies include such things as meals and beverages, tickets to sporting or cultural events, discounts not available to the general public, travel, accommodation and other merchandise or services. In some cultures they play an important role in business relationships. However, a problem may arise when such courtesies compromise — or appear to compromise — our ability to make objective and fair business decisions.

Offering or receiving any gift, gratuity or entertainment that might be perceived to unfairly influence a business relationship should be avoided. These guidelines apply at all times, and do not change during traditional gift-giving seasons. No gift or entertainment should ever be offered, given, provided or accepted by any director or employee of the Company, or by any family member of a director or employee, unless it:

- (a) is not a cash gift;
- (b) is consistent with customary business practices;
- (c) is not excessive in value;
- (d) cannot be construed as a bribe or payoff; and

- (e) does not violate any applicable laws or regulations.

Please discuss with your supervisor any gifts or proposed gifts if you are uncertain whether they are appropriate.

XV. WAIVERS OF THIS CODE OF BUSINESS CONDUCT AND ETHICS

Any waiver of this Code with respect to a director or officer of the Company may be made only by the Board of Directors or the Audit Committee. Any such waiver will be promptly disclosed to the extent required by applicable law or stock exchange regulation.

XVI. REPORTING OF ANY ILLEGAL OR UNETHICAL BEHAVIOR

We have a strong commitment to conduct our business in a lawful and ethical manner. Employees are encouraged to talk to supervisors, managers or other appropriate personnel when in doubt about the best course of action in a particular situation and to report violations of laws, rules, regulations or this Code. We prohibit retaliatory action against any employee who, in good faith, reports a possible violation. It is unacceptable to file a report knowing it to be false.

XVII. COMPLIANCE PROCEDURES

This Code cannot, and is not intended to, address all of the situations you may encounter. There will be occasions where you are confronted by circumstances not covered by policy or procedure and where you must make a judgment as to the appropriate course of action.

Since we cannot anticipate every situation that may arise, it is important for the Company to set forth a general way to approach a new question or problem. These are the steps to keep in mind:

- Make sure you have all of the facts. In order to reach the right solutions, you must be as fully informed as possible.
- Ask yourself what you are specifically being asked to do. This analysis will enable you to focus on the specific issues that are raised and the available alternatives. Use your judgment and common sense. If something seems unethical or improper, it probably is.
- Clarify your responsibility and role. In most situations, there is shared responsibility. Are your colleagues informed? It may help to get others involved and to discuss the problem.
- Discuss the problem with your supervisor. This approach is best in most if not all situations. Your supervisor may be more knowledgeable about the issue and will appreciate being brought into the process. It is a supervisor's responsibility to help you to solve problems.
- Seek help from Company resources. In the rare instance in which it may not be appropriate to discuss an issue with your supervisor, or in which you feel uncomfortable approaching your supervisor, discuss the problem with the Company's general legal counsel. If you prefer to write, address your concerns to the Company's general legal counsel or the President.
- You may report ethical violations in confidence and without fear of retaliation. If your situation requires that your identity be kept secret, the Company will protect your anonymity. The Company does not permit retaliation of any kind against employees for good faith reports of ethical violations.
- Ask first. If you are unsure of the proper course of action, seek guidance before you act.

PURPOSE OF THE COMMITTEE

The purpose of the Audit Committee (the “Committee”) of the Board of Directors (the “Board”) of Adamera Minerals Corp. (the “Company”) is to provide an open avenue of communication between management, the Company’s independent auditor and the Board and to assist the Board in its oversight of:

The Committee is responsible for recommending to the Board the independent auditor to be nominated for the purpose of auditing the Company’s financial statements, preparing or issuing an auditor’s report or performing other audit, review or attest services for the Company, and for reviewing and recommending the compensation of the independent auditor. The Committee is also directly responsible for the evaluation of and oversight of the work of the independent auditor. The independent auditor shall report directly to the Committee.

AUTHORITY AND RESPONSIBILITIES

In addition to the foregoing, in performing its oversight responsibilities the Committee shall:

This review may include discussions with the independent auditor without the presence of management.
 8. Review with management and the independent auditor significant related party transactions and potential conflicts of interest.
 9. Pre-approve all non-audit services to be provided to the Company by the independent auditor.
 10. Monitor the independence of the independent auditor by reviewing all relationships between the independent auditor and the Company and all non-audit work performed for the Company by the independent auditor.
 11. Establish and review the Company's procedures for the:
 - receipt, retention and treatment of complaints regarding accounting, financial disclosure, internal controls or auditing matters; and
 - confidential, anonymous submission by employees regarding questionable accounting, auditing and financial reporting and disclosure matters.
 12. Conduct or authorize investigations into any matters that the Committee believes is within the scope of its responsibilities. The Committee has the authority to retain independent counsel, accountants or other advisors to assist it, as it considers necessary, to carry out its duties, and to set and pay the compensation of such advisors at the expense of the Company.
 13. Perform such other functions and exercise such other powers as are prescribed from time to time for the audit committee of a reporting company in Parts 2 and 4 of National Instrument 52-110 of the Canadian Securities Administrators, the Business Corporations Act (British Columbia) and the articles of the Company.

WHISTLEBLOWER POLICY

General

Adamera Minerals Corp. (the "Company") requires its directors, officers and employees to observe high standards of professionalism and ethical conduct in maintaining the financial records of the Company. Pursuant to its Charter, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors of the Company is responsible for reviewing (on a confidential basis if necessary) all complaints or submissions received from employees of the Company regarding accounting or auditing matters concerning the Company. In order to carry out its responsibilities under its Charter, the Audit Committee has adopted this Whistleblower Policy (the "Policy").

For the purposes of this Policy, all accounting or auditing matters which are the subject of a complaint or submission are referred to as an "Accounting Irregularity".

No Retaliation

No officer or employee who in good faith reports an Accounting Irregularity shall suffer harassment, retaliation or adverse employment consequence. An officer or employee who retaliates against someone who has reported an Accounting Irregularity in good faith is subject to discipline up to and including termination of employment. This Whistleblower Policy is intended to encourage and enable employees and others to raise serious concerns within the Company rather than seeking resolution outside the Company.

Reporting Violations

It is the responsibility of all directors, officers and employees to report all suspected Accounting Irregularities in accordance with this Whistleblower Policy. The Company maintains an open door policy and suggests that employees share their questions, concerns, suggestions or complaints with someone who can address them properly. In most cases, an employee's supervisor is in the best position to address an area of concern. An employee's supervisor may be more knowledgeable about the issue and will appreciate being brought into the process. It is the supervisor's responsibility to help you to solve the problem.

However, if you are not comfortable speaking with your supervisor or you are not satisfied with your supervisor's response, you are encouraged to speak with anyone in management whom you are comfortable in approaching. Supervisors and managers are required to report suspected Accounting Irregularities to the Company's Whistleblower, Geir Liland, or to any member of the Audit Committee. Mr. Geir Liland direct telephone line is (604) 619-7617. The Audit Committee has specific and exclusive responsibility to investigate all reported violations. For suspected fraud or securities law violations, or when you are not satisfied or uncomfortable with following the Company's open door policy, individuals should contact the Chairman of the Company or any member of the Company's Audit Committee directly. All complaints will be reported to the Audit Committee within five days of receipt.

Investigations of Complaints

The Company's Audit Committee is responsible for investigating and resolving all reported complaints and allegations concerning Accounting Irregularities. The Audit Committee may retain independent legal counsel, accountants or others to assist in its investigations.

Accounting and Auditing Matters

Pursuant to its Charter, the Audit Committee is responsible for addressing all reported concerns or complaints regarding corporate accounting practices, internal controls or auditing. The President is required to immediately notify the Audit Committee of any complaint of which he or she is aware and to work with the Committee until the matter is resolved.

Acting in Good Faith

Anyone filing a complaint concerning a suspected Accounting Irregularity must be acting in good faith and have reasonable grounds for believing the information disclosed indicates an Accounting Irregularity. Any allegations that prove not to be substantiated and which prove to have been made maliciously or knowingly to be false will be viewed as a serious disciplinary offense.

Confidentiality

Complaints or submissions concerning a suspected Accounting Irregularity may be submitted on a confidential basis by the complainant or may be submitted anonymously. All complaints or submissions will be kept confidential to the extent possible, consistent with the need to conduct an adequate investigation.

Handling of Reported Violations

The Chair of the Audit Committee will notify the sender and acknowledge receipt of the reported suspected Accounting Irregularity within five business days. All reports will be promptly investigated and appropriate corrective action will be taken if warranted by the investigation.

The Company shall retain records of complaints for a period of no less than seven years as a separate part of the records of the Audit Committee.

Privacy Violations

In addition to these rules regarding accounting, internal accounting controls and auditing matters, recent privacy legislation, the Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (Canada) (“PIPEDA”) and the Personal Information Protection Act (British Columbia) (“PIPA”), provide that any person who has reasonable grounds to believe that there has been a contravention of either of PIPEDA or PIPA may notify the relevant Privacy Commissioner.

An organization must not dismiss, suspend, discipline, harass or otherwise disadvantage an employee or deny an employee a benefit because the employee, acting in good faith and on the basis of reasonable belief, has disclosed to the Privacy Commissioner that the organization has contravened or is about to contravene either of PIPEDA or PIPA. Members of the public may lodge anonymous complaints to avoid the possibility of retaliation.
